

NEW CONCLUSIONS OF THE PhD DISSERTATION

1. Title of the dissertation: Provincial Party Committee in the Red River Delta region leads the state administrative reform nowadays

2. Field/Major: Party and State Government Building

3. Code: 9.31.02.02

4. PhD student: Nguyen Thi Yen

5. Supervisor: Associate Professor, Dr. Nguyen Xuan Phong; Associate Professor, Dr. Do Ngoc Ninh

6. Training institution: Academy of Journalism and Communication

7. New conclusions of the dissertation:

Concept: Provincial Party Committee in the Red River Delta leads state administrative reform, which includes the entire activities of the Provincial Party Committee and its Standing Committee, with the participation of Party organizations, especially at the municipal and commune levels, as well as the team of cadres and Party members, political system organizations, relevant organizations, local enterprises, and the people. This collective effort focuses on building and issuing resolutions, decisions, directives, and conclusions of the Provincial Party Committee and its Standing Committee on state administrative reform in the province. It also involves organizing the implementation, as well as monitoring and supervision, to ensure the successful execution of these resolutions, decisions, directives, and conclusions.

Specific experience: Building a clean and strong Provincial Party Committee with an adequate number of personnel, reasonable structure is the decisive factor for the success of the Provincial Party Committee in leading the state administrative reform.

Breakthrough solution: Innovating and restructuring the organizational apparatus, improving the quality of cadres, civil servants, and public employees in the government agencies of provinces in the Red River Delta to meet the requirements of strengthening the leadership of state administrative reform by the Provincial Party Committee.

Supervisor

PhD student

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Nguyen Xuan Phong,
Assoc. Prof. Dr. Do Ngoc Ninh

Nguyen Thi Yen