

SUMMARY OF NEW CONCLUSIONS OF PHD THESIS

1. Title: Provincial and municipal Party Committees in the Southeast lead the implementation of democracy in communes, wards and towns today
2. Speciality: Party Building and State Government
3. Classification: 9.31.02.02
4. Name of PhD Student: Bui Thi Bich Thuy
5. Advisors: Assoc. Prof. Dr. Pham Minh Son
6. Institution: Academy of Journalism and Communication
7. New conclusions:

Firstly, the thesis presents the central concept of the topic: Provincial and municipal Party Committees in the Southeast region lead the implementation of democracy in communes, wards and towns, which is the entire activity of the provincial and municipal Party Committees and the Standing Committees of the provincial and municipal Party Committees, with the participation of Party committees at all levels, Party organizations, cadres and Party members of the provincial and municipal Party Committees; organizations in the political system, people in communes, wards and towns and related organizations in the development and promulgation of resolutions, decisions, directives and conclusions of the provincial and municipal Party Committees and the Standing Committees of the provincial and municipal Party Committees on the implementation of democracy in communes, wards and towns; leading, directing the implementation and inspection and supervision to successfully implement those resolutions, decisions, directives and conclusions.

Secondly, the thesis draws experiences from the practice of provincial and municipal Party Committees in the Southeast region in leading the implementation of democracy in communes, wards and towns in the past time, especially: Strengthening ideological work and mass mobilization among the people in communes, wards and towns, closely combining ideological work with mass mobilization work, creating consensus among the people on implementing democracy in communes, wards and towns is a solid guarantee for provincial and municipal Party Committees to effectively lead the implementation of democracy in communes, wards and towns.

Thirdly, the thesis analyzes and explains solutions to strengthen the leadership of provincial and municipal Party Committees in the Southeast region in implementing democracy in communes, wards and towns in the coming time, in which the breakthrough solution is: Building a high-quality commune-level Party Committee, effectively leading the implementation of democracy in the area;

strengthening the leadership of the government, the Fatherland Front, and socio-political organizations in implementing democracy in communes, wards and towns; creating resources to effectively carry out this work.

Advisor

PhD Student

Assoc.Prof.Dr. Pham Minh Son

Bui Thi Bich Thuy